

GEAA Members and Friends,

Please join GEAA member group, Wimberley Valley Watershed Association at 10:am on November 16th at the Wimberley Community Center to protest additional drawdown of local aquifers that would threaten to forever dry up springflows and creeks in the Hill Country. Those of you who are not able to attend will have the opportunity to submit comments in writing. Please take the opportunity to stand up for Hill Country Springs before it is too late! For more information click here.

Curious about the Edwards Aquifer Recovery Implementation Plan? At 8:pm this Sunday, November 13th, radio KSTX 89.1 FM will broadcast "Working Together to Protect Our Water Resources" on the News Maker Hour. If you are out of range, or miss the broadcast, you can listen to a pod cast by clicking here.

Looking for something fun to do this Saturday night? Join GEAA member group, San Marcos Greenbelt Alliance at their Harvest Moon Fundraiser. Take an astronomy hike around Purgatory Creek Natural Area and enjoy live blue grass music with a great group of folks for a great cause.

Click here to read the Request for Attorney General Opinion filed by Chairman Ritter regarding county authority to enact groundwater management regulations. This request for opinion was triggered by, and discusses, Travis County's new groundwater regulations that are proposed for adoption. As you can see the request raises a whole host of issues at the intersection of county authority, groundwater conservation districts, and the potential impact of SB 332, the new legislation on groundwater ownership. The Attorney General requests briefing by interested parties by November 16, 2011. Please share this with anyone you know that may be interested in submitted briefing. Views from landowners, counties, GCDs, conservation groups and others will help determine a good opinion.

GEAA is running dry as we approach the year's end. Make a donation today! And, for the latest news, visit GEAA's Face Book Page.

Annalisa Peace
Executive Director