

Dear Friends of Land Conservation in Comal County,

The last meeting of the Comal County Conservation Alliance was quite productive! We divided into small groups which discussed how we might: conduct a public information campaign for land preservation; work with landowners for land conservation; host a mapping event to identify areas important to save; and organize ourselves to accomplish our goals effectively. Many individuals identified particular tasks they are willing to do.

Here are the links to read details of the meeting and a report of the small group discussions. We were not, however, able to make a final decision on how to organize ourselves to accomplish these goals. That will be the focus of our next meeting.

Upcoming meetings:

Thursday, April 5th at 11:00 a.m. at the Headwaters of the Comal (333 E. Klingemann) map

A Steering Committee will meet to make recommendations to the whole group regarding how CCCA could organize itself, using the suggestions generated by the small group discussion on 3/21. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Bring a lunch.

Wednesday, April 18th at 2:00-4:00 p.m. at McKenna Events Center (801 W. San Antonio Street) map

Regular meeting of CCCA. We will hear the recommendations from the Steering Committee and make decisions regarding: the make-up and duties of an Executive Committee, who will serve on the Executive Committee, how CCCA will function, and how the small groups will carry on their goals.

We really need everyone who has attended any past meetings to join us on April 18th as we decide how we can work together as an Alliance to accomplish our goals.

We hope to see you on at the McKenna Center at 2:00 p.m. on April 18th!
